

2018 Philadelphia Annual Patient Education Day

Whether you're newly diagnosed, have lived with Crohn's or colitis for years, or have a loved one who suffers from IBD, it's important to understand the impact of these diseases on day-to-day life. Come join us as a panel of health experts explore the various aspects of living with Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis.

When: Sunday - April 29 - 10:30am-3:00pm (Lunch Included)

Where: Thomas Jefferson Hospital, Dorrance H. Hamilton Building—Connelly Auditorium
1001 Locust Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107

Cost: Free to Foundation Members & $5 for non Foundation members-Registration is Required

Topics and Speakers:

Dr Neil Nandi & Dr Robert Frankel- Overview of IBD/Surgery/Medications/Emerging Treatments

Dr John Betteridge - Preventative Care for the IBD Patient

Dr Alison Kaufman - Psychosocial Issues and IBD

Patient Panelists - Lifespan of The IBD Patient

Dr Adam Kaufman & Dr Adam Ehrlich - Moderators for the Q& A Sessions

By learning all you can about coping with IBD, you're taking a giant step in taking charge of your illness -- and your life.

Registration Required: <http://online.ccfa.org/2018PhillyIBDEducationDay>

Educational Support Provided By: Janssen & Medtronic

